FOUR WILL BE ELECTED TO COUNCIL

Richmond voters will go to the polls tomorrow to elect four city councilmen, three for three year terms and one for a two year term.

Interest in the election has been raised to a high pitch and it is predicted that more than 5000 votes out of the approximate 8900 registered will be cast in the election.

Eight candidates are running for the four vacancies on the council. Those whose names appear on the ballot for the three year term are Dr. A. B. Hinkley (incumbent), George F. Black (incumbent), Walter Johnson, Elmer A. Martin (incumbent), Russell J. Meyer and Eugene H. Axell.

George F. Imbach and Archibald H. Winchell are seeking the two year term.

Polls will be open from 6 o'clock until 7 o'clock tomorrow night. Every voter has been urged to go to the polls as the voting is expected to be close.

WOMAN HELD AS DRUNK DRIVER

Two women are in the city jail, one charged with driving while drunk and possession of liquor and the other facing charges on intoxication.

Miss Ida M. Armstrong, 47, giving her address as Davis and occupation as a housekeeper is alleged to have been the driver of the car. Miss Estelle Boardman of San Francisco, her companion, faces the intoxication charges.

The two were arrested on San Pablo avenue last night by State Traffic Officers Lester Eaton and Charles Nissen. The officers declared that Miss Armstrong was driving her machine in a reckless manner.

Bail was set at $1000 for Miss Armstrong and $100 for Miss Boardman. They were making attempts to raise bail money last night.

Service Man Would Serve

GEORGE IMBACH, veteran leader who is seeking a post on the city council at the election tomorrow.

IMBACH SEEN AS BIG AID TO CITY COUNCIL

Having a principle and being willing to fight for it, is one of the many recommendations, brother veterans, and friends are putting forth in behalf of the candidacy of George F. Imbach, candidate for a member of the city council for the short term.

Yeomen work has been done for the candidate, and after making a thorough canvass of every section of the city, he is willing to abide by the decision of the voters at the election tomorrow.

Imbach has grown up and kept pace with the growth of the city. Richmond is his home, he is a property owner, and the experience he has gained in his own insurance business, will be valuable not only to him, but to the people of the city, as a member of the city governing board. Straws show the way the wind is blowing, and the fact that there are no takers, for friends willing to wager on Imbach, seems to be a strong indication of the result, Monday.

4 TOTS SLAIN BY INSANE MOTHER

SASKATOON, Sask., May 11.—(UP)—One of the most gruesome tragedies in the history of Saskatchewan was uncovered by provincial police here today when the bodies of four young children were found on the banks of the Saskatchewan river and that of their apparently insane mother hanging from a nearby bridge.

It was obvious, authorities believed, that the mother, Mrs. Marie E. Wilson, 35, suddenly had become insane, and killed her children, Glenn, five months old, Marjorie, two years, Louis, 4, and Laura May, 9.

The four small bodies were scattered over a radius of 60 feet on the banks of the river about a mile and a half north of town. There were indications that the two older children had been choked with their scarfs and the two babies strangled.

Laura apparently had struggled desperately against her mother but it was believed the three others were easily killed.

Mrs. Wilson's body was found hanging from the nearby bridge where she, evidently stood on a box until the noose was adjusted and then kicked the box aside.

W. A. Wilson, the husband and father, had the first intimation of the tragedy Friday when he returned home and found a note from Mrs. Wilson which was said to have stated her intentions to murder the children and commit suicide.

The bodies were found today after an all night search.

ALASKA FISHING FLEET TO LEAVE SOON FOR NORTHLAND

OAKLAND, May 11.—UP.—Majestic shadows of the days when a colorful fleet of fishing windjammers headed through the Golden Gate for Alaskan waters hung over the bay district today as preparations were underway for the annual salmon fishing expedition to the north.

The salmon fishing fleet was the last to stand against the inroads of steam. Gradually, as the years rolled by, the historic vessels went out of commission one by one. The Star of India, Star of Alaska, City of Sydney and other tall masted vessels famous for their races to the fishing grounds, now lie at piers or rotting in ship's graveyards.

Last year there was but one sailing vessel in the entire north bound fleet. Even this one is absent this year, and for the first time in history an all-steam fleet will set out from San Francisco bay.

The advance guard already is enroute to the fishing waters. It was the steam tender Kadiak of this preliminary fleet that sprung

Stolen Auto Only Out To Get Repairs

Richmond and Eastbay police searched hither and yon Friday night and yesterday morning for a car reported stolen from the home of Alec Marts, 532 Twenty-first street. Passing cars were inspected by patrolmen and traffic police. The stolen car must be found.

Then at noon yesterday the search was halted. Marts called the police and informed them that his machine had been taken by garagemen whom he had ordered to repair the car.

Marts explained that when he went out of his driveway to park his car and found that it was missing, he forgot that he had ordered the garage to send someone up and take the car away for repairs.

FIGHT FIRE ON VESSEL

SEATTLE, May 11.—(UP)—A desperate fight to save the burning motorship Boohyalla, afire at Esquimalt, B. C., continued late today with firemen wearing gas masks aboard the vessel.

The coast guard cutter Haida, had abandoned pumping efforts, according to radio advices and the tug Salvage King was attempting to beach the Boohyalla. A heavy list caused suspension of pumping the Haida advised coast guard headquarters.

The Boohyalla caught fire in the straits of Juan de Fuca and the flames disabled her engine room and pumps. The Haida and Salvage King went to her aid and escorted her to the vicinity of Maqui malt today.

NEW FLOODS ENDANGER MIDWEST

TOPEKA, Kans., May 11.—(UP)—Possibility of additional rains tonight added to the grief of central Kansas towns stricken by severe floods and cloudbursts today.

Two Mexican residents of Herington, railroad town southwest of here, which suffered the brunt of the sudden deluge, were dead, another was reported missing and unconfirmed reports said it was possible several names might be added to the casualty list.

Herington and Council Grove, a sister town to the east, were swamped by a sudden onrush of waters in the wake of torrential rains early today.

Lime creek, normally just a ribbon of a stream running through a section of Herington, swelled to a width of four miles a few hours after an eight to 12 inch rain fell in the early morning. Streets and whistles of the town aroused citizens who rushed to higher ground in improvised craft.

The two Mexicans, Jesus Medino and Elcio Rodriguez, were swept down the torrent clinging to their shack.

Critical scenes were enacted at Council Grove when from two to four feet of water from the flooded upper Neesho river swept into the town.

Great Bend, Salina, Marquette, Lindsay, and Gypsum and surrounding communities suffered less torrential but critical rains, reporting resultant damage.

Richmond Policemen Hold Annual Drill

Resplendent in blue and brass and with badges shining in the sunlight, Richmond's Fine 1, led by Police Chief Daniel Cox turned out for their annual inspection and drill at the Roosevelt Junior high school grounds yesterday afternoon.

The school grounds were lined with spectators while countless machines were drawn up about the grounds, adding the clamor of their horns to the applause that greeted each exhibition.

Under the direction of George Ruffscheider, former lieutenant in the United States Army, 24 patrolmen staged an exhibition of close order military drill that compared favorably with the best drilled military organization.

Love Slayer Asks To Visit Victim's Grave

DENVER, Colo., May 11.—UP.—Farley King, "love mania" slayer of John C. Bohzine, the "man she loved better than her life," standing before Judge Charles C. Sackman here today to receive her life sentence in prison, made only one request of the court—that she be permitted to visit the grave of the man she loved and killed, and the last resting place of her child by her first marriage.

Leaving heavily upon the arm of her brother, Dr. Leslie King of Denver, the nurse heard Judge Sackman deny her petition for a new trial.

The court asked her if she had anything to say before he pronounced sentence.

"I ask but one thing before I am put away forever," she replied. "That is that you grant me leave to visit the graves of my baby, and of the man I love. That is all."

Judge Sackman, showing surprise, paused a moment.

"That is a matter to be decided later," he answered.

Tunney's Wife Gains After Operation

POLA, Italy, May 11.—UP.—Mrs. James J. Tunney, wife of the retired heavyweight champion, was making rapid progress toward recovery on the island of Brioni today after her life had been saved by a skillful operation performed by two Berlin specialists.

The operation was for an abscessed appendix, a serious condition which had existed for a long time and discovered. Mrs. Tunney complained frequently of what she thought was indigestion. After ordinary treatment failed, the case was diagnosed by experts, and two Berlin professors, Doctors, A. V. Meyer and Fritz Mezer, performed the operation.

It was highly successful and Mrs. Tunney has advanced so far on the way to recovery that she was able to be out of bed today.

The Tunneys who have been touring Europe, the Mediterranean lands and northern Africa on their honeymoon, have been making a practical stay on Brioni island, in the Adriatic off Pola. They were joined there by George Bernard Shaw and other European friends.

5 Killed; 12 Hurt In Texas Hotel Fire

AMARILLO, Tex., May 11.—UP.—Five persons were dead and twelve were in hospitals today in the wake of a fire which gutted the Tourist Hotel, pioneer local hostelry, in the early morning.

The dead included two brothers named Cozart of Detroit, Tex. Pete Keatus, Pine, Colo., and two unidentified victims.

Included in the injured were, O. H. Welchel, Gainesville, Tex.; R. Barnhart, Elk City, Okla.; George Hegan, Amarillo; Jacob Dollar, Dallas; Sam Scott, address unknown; Mrs. Birdie Rhodes, co-manager of the hotel; Fred Rogers, co-manager.

By oddities of fate, Scott was reported to have been injured when he rushed through fire-lines to escape stream of water turned on the crowds by firemen. In contrast, H. C. Wilson, aged pioneer guest of the hotel, escaped down a rope he had been saving for such an emergency 21 years.

The gutted structure was a 3-story frame building.

ARBITRATION HOPES FADE

ATLANTA, Ga., May 11.—UP.—Southern textile strikes assumed more ominous aspects tonight after outbreaks of violence at Elizabethton, Tenn., and posting of new eviction notices for families of strikers at Gastonia, N. C.

National guardsmen stationed at the rayon plants of Elizabethton guarded the house of a loyal worker, after burning of a barn, and finding of a death threat. The fire early today followed by 24 hours dynamiting of a striker's house.

In the streets of Gastonia, in front of the company owned houses they had been driven from, families of textile strikers camped tonight, cooking, eating and sleeping in the open, just where deputies had piled their household goods.

In neither section did settlements appear near. Arbitration also appeared as far off as ever.

Eighteen new eviction notices were served at Gastonia during the day, as the Manville Jencks company, owner of the Lora-Tex textile mill, one of the largest in the south, sought to empty company owned cottages of strikers. The new notices brought the number of strikers families dispossessed to eighty.

County and city authorities of Elizabethton, Tenn., area sought clues to those responsible for the outrages there.

The barn on Nat Simerly's farm, three miles from Elizabethton, was burned during the night. Simerly has worked at the American Bomberg plant during the strike of 5000 textile workers from that mill and that of the American Glanstoff corporation. A note was found in a forked stick near the ruins of the barn at dawn. It warned Simerly and neighbor, John Atwood who returned to work at Bomberg Monday, if they "enter the Bomberg plant to work, they had better bid their children goodbye as they will not be back alive."

LOVELY NATIONAL COURTESY

Admitting small nations, weak in naval power to the conferences in Geneva, is a pretty courtesy on the part of the United States and Great Britain.

If the two English speaking nations should so desire they could pool the vast preponderance of naval power they possess, tell the rest of the world to behave itself and thereby create what is most needed to insure perpetual peace. But the world is a democracy. Its nations claim and are accorded a certain parity of voice in world councils. It is not the intention of either England or America to take what they can so easily grasp—complete control of the affairs of nations.

The time will come shortly when they must do this. They will stand back to back, with possibly a little ring of similar minded countries, to defend civilization against the obsession of Russia. It is no accident that the fiction literature of the present year is featuring imaginative chronicles of future wars, and nearly always with Red Russia and the malcontents and backward of the darker races jumping on the rest of the world. So certain is it that the next war will be one of peoples—races—rather than of political entities, such as joined in the last conflict, that we are witnessing even now the preliminaries. Russia's naive suggestion for world disarmament was not made with a perfect altruism, touching the heart of the world. Russia will be ready one of these fine days to break that heart.

A SENATOR EARNS HIS KEEP

Secretary Mellon will continue to serve the nation as head of the treasury department until he or President Hoover decides otherwise. The invoking of an ancient statute, built into the law by a touchy legislature ten decades ago may still be the proper caper for the senate providing there is any reason under the sun to believe that it is being violated by the well to do Pittsburgher who is profiting the country with his services, but it is doubtful to the point of high improbability if anything can be "got" on Mellon.

This man is separated from business by the same barrier of finance that connects him with it. It is as futile to deny the secretary of the treasury the right to own securities or real estate as it is to say that no man who parts his hair on the left side shall be eligible for the job of dog catcher in Richmond.

But the senate must have something to talk about. And the senators must make such show of business as to justify their drawing their salaries. In the case of Mellon and the judiciary committee, the crying need for activity by the members is such as to make it necessary to file three separate reports and three individual opinions. More power to these courageous fighters for the right!!

OUR TOURIST TRADE

With the statement that what France wants from the United States is more tourists and less advice. Minott Saunders, American correspondent in Paris, points out the importance to Europe of the American tourist trade, an item which we are apt to overlook in figuring up the balance of trade between the United States and the nations across the big pond.

The writer points out that before the World War American tourists spent about $100,000,000 a year in Europe. Now it is estimated that they let go of almost $350,000,000 of American money in Europe each year. This does not include amounts on foreign ships.

The French say that they have been losing out on the tourist trade for the past few years and that Americans are going in increasing numbers to Italy, Switzerland and Germany, instead of spending most of their time and money in Paris as formerly. This situation is regarded as so serious that the French are figuring on a general scheme of advertising and tourist propaganda to attract this business back to France.

RECORD KEPT OF CHRYSLER CAR SALES

Of particular interest to Chrysler car owners and of unusual value to police departments in the United States is the statistical department at the Chrysler offices in Detroit, which can be found a complete record of any Chrysler car that has been sold since July 1925, according to Harry S. Curry, local auto dealer.

Hundreds of columns of facts concerning Chrysler cars are available in this department headed by John W. Seville.

With such thoroughness are these records kept that it requires but 20 minutes to check completely any information desired on any Chrysler automobile in the United States. Within that time and with only the engine number, the serial number, or the car number on the instrument panel as a guide the records will show the name of the purchaser of the car, the purchase price, date of purchase, name of the dealer who sold the car, that of the salesman handling the sale, the model, date of purchase and the occupation of the owner in addition to a number of other facts of importance.

Not only is this information of great value to police in locating the owners of stolen automobiles, but Chrysler owners benefit materially. Information furnished through these records has been used successfully by Chrysler officials in reducing rates of insurance on Chrysler cars in various parts of the country.

In many instances the records kept in the statistical department have been instrumental in returning cars to the owners after they have been stolen and driven hundreds of miles from the city in which they were taken. Another insurance to Chrysler owners against the loss of their cars through theft is the numbering system used on the instrument panel. While these numbers can be destroyed entirely, they cannot be changed and in case of their being destroyed, the cars are easily distinguished as stolen.

"The statistical department is maintained not only for the benefit of the Chrysler officials who find it important to have this information on hand, but for the use of aiding the owners of Chrysler cars in every way possible."

INSPECT AUTO BEFORE TRIP WARNING

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—Have your car inspected before starting on your vacation!

Motorists of California were urged to observe this caution in a bulletin issued here today by George Moynahan, chief inspector of the division of motor vehicles. The bulletin said:

"Plan a safe vacation by having your car thoroughly inspected before starting."

"Be particularly sure that your brakes will hold you on the mountain grades or in the heavy traffic around seaside resorts. Have the lining examined and see that they are equalized. A brake that 'grabs' on one wheel may ruin your vacation."

Delaware Gets U. S. Road Fund

Delaware's share of federal aid road construction funds for the current fiscal year is $365,625, according to the California State Automobile association.

State Improves New Highways

California's state highway system now comprises 6,582 miles, 4286 miles consisting of primary and 2,296 miles of secondary roads, according to the California State Automobile association. Of this mileage 2,765 miles are graded and paved, 1350 are graded and surfaced, while 2250 miles have as yet had no work done upon them by the state.

Bright Future For Car Exports

George F. Bauer, export secretary of the National Automobile chamber of commerce, is quoted by the National Automobile club as having predicted a bright future for the automobile export business of this country.

At the present time there are nearly seven million cars registered in foreign lands. These figures offer grounds for the prediction of an annual replacement, in the very near future, of one million cars. This replacement business is exclusive of the rapidly progressing volume of new business enjoyed yearly.

Keep Spark Plugs Of Machine Clean

Ever since people have been buying cars they have been urged and entreated to clean the spark plugs every now and then.

Engineers have told them of the importance of spark firing points in getting maximum engine efficiency and economy. In cool or cold weather particularly a hot, fat spark is needed.

Keep Check On Car Brake Drums

A simple and satisfactory manner of determining the freedom of brake drums, suggests L. G. Evans, general service manager, National Automobile club, is to gently tap them with a hammer. The result, if the brake shoes are not touching the drum, will be a clear metallic, bell-like note.

STUDEBAKER CO GETS PHONE SYSTEM

The party line which still serves a source of local telephone news and gossip for many a rural district, has been harnessed to the split second requirements of modern manufacturing, according to L. J. Thomas, Studebaker-Erskine dealer here.

"The expansion of manufacturing facilities in Studebaker's Santa Fe plant and the increased production schedules called for by the popularity of the new Studebaker cars demanded a new degree of co-ordination and efficiency along the four assembly lines of the President, the Commander, the Liberator and the Trucking Six."

"To meet this requirement Studebaker recently installed a telephone conference system. In effect, this is simply a modernized form of the old-fashioned party line. Thirteen telephone stations have been installed at strategic points along the assembly lines and in the departments which must keep their lines applied with a smooth flow of parts."

"Thus it is possible for the superintendent of the assembly division to call the heads of the various departments into immediate conference without making it necessary for the men to leave their posts. Some of the telephone stations are so widely separated that it would take half an hour for the men to make a personal appearance at a conference. By means of the new conference system we reach all departments at once, and at the same time settle any question which may arise as effectively as though the men were gathered around a table in his office."

Chrysler performance IS different

Chrysler enjoys its universal prestige and popularity because Chrysler is unique among motor cars.

There is no other motor car performance quite like Chrysler performance—so silky in power, so flashing in pick-up, so steady in speed, so untiring to drive, so disciplined in control.

This is understandable when you check the list of Chrysler engineering developments included in both the '65' and the '75'—chassis and body features, and combinations of features, to be enjoyed only in Chrysler cars.

Chrysler offers, in the final analysis, something more than just a motor car—a delightful new phase, a thrilling new experience, in motoring performance.

You can pay more and still not equal the performance or the intrinsic value that Chrysler '65' and '75' both give you at their remarkably moderate prices.

Ask any Chrysler dealer for a demonstration and learn the difference.

CHEVROLET CO. SPEEDOMETER TO BUILD NEW WAREHOUSE AIDS CAR DRIVER

The Chevrolet Motor company, anticipating the greatest sales volume in its history during 1929, has announced a building program for its parts and service department for the first six months of the year which will increase measurably the company's already adequate coverage for owner service.

This building program, as outlined in a letter to the Golden Rule company, local dealer, will add eight new zone warehouses to the present number, all of them to be in operation before June 1. The departmental building program for this year has already brought about the opening at Flint, Mich., of a past model manufacturing building, where parts for the former four models will be turned out on a volume basis.

The cities where new zone warehouses are to be erected are Wichita, Kansas; Birmingham, Ala.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Richmond, Va.; El Paso, Texas; Salt Lake City, Utah; Great Falls, Mont.; and Indianapolis, Ind. In all instances property has already been purchased and architects' plans approved. With the opening of these eight proposed warehouses the number owned and operated by Chevrolet throughout the country will have been increased to 36.

The building program which this department is to carry on this year is in accord with Chevrolet's policy of constant progress. Last year found the parts and service department effecting a building program which added to its facilities 200,000 square feet of floor space. Eight new zone warehouses were erected and placed in operation in addition to two major supply depots at Atlanta, Ga., and Kansas City.

While the primary function of these zone warehouses is to bring the car owner as close as possible to the point where replacement parts are distributed, it is not the only purpose for which they are utilized by the company.

Each maintains a service school in charge of a resident instructor who is constantly employed in informing shop foremen and mechanics in the proper repair of a car, in Duo refinishing and in all other phases of shop operation and mechanical knowledge.

AIDS CAR DRIVER

The prehistoric cave man told time by a rope of burning grass, the strand twisted tightly together, with knots here and there by which the hours were computed.

If the knots were not made in the right place the "watch" was inaccurate, but that was the least of the cave man's troubles. In those days time and distance were not important. He probably had no theater appointments to keep; dinner engagements were not the social functions they are today.

With civilization, however, distance and time have taken more significant places in the social system. Appointments must be kept on time and the question of distance enters into our everyday life, so people carry watches and equip their automobiles with speedometers.

The accurate speedometer relieves the driver, and particularly the summer tourist on long trips from untold trouble in finding his way on strange high-ways, said J. Paulford, service manager for the De Soto division of Chrysler Motors, in a recent interview on servicing the automobile for summer touring.

"With mileage on road maps set down in tenths of a mile the speedometer must function accurately. Yet, many drivers forget this when leaving their cars at service stations for inspection before starting on long trips. The speedometer test should be one of the principal items of inspection. Tourists often are lead astray from important turns in the highway, the driver depending on the synchronization of a faulty speedometer and an inaccurate road map to find his way. If the speedometer is not giving correct readings, the chances of taking a wrong road are apparent and it may be some time before the tourist discovers he has made a mistake."

Inspection also should include head, tail and signal lamps. The stop light is as important in the country, if not more so than in city traffic. Accidents often occur because the lights are not working properly. The use of a spotlight for night driving, so signs along the route may be easily distinguished is also a MAGDA DEMETRESCH, 18, winner of a recent beauty contest in Bucharest, Roumania, chose a new DeSoto six for her triumphant ride through the streets of Bucharest. great convenience and a decided saver of time.

The tourist who hopes to be free from trouble along the highway should make sure the car is thoroughly inspected before he leaves on his trip. In the city, a telephone call brings a service car if trouble develops, no matter how unimportant it may be, but it is often difficult to get even minor repairs attended to on a suburban road.

Among other important inspections for the summer tourist are: ignition, brakes, front axle, rear axle, universal joint, clutch, transmission and water circulation and valve and steering mechanism. Particular attention will be paid this summer to those inspection items in the service stations of the De Soto Motor corporation throughout the United States and Canada.

LARGER MOTOR IN PONTIAC CARS

Net details of engineering and exclusive features of design in the engine and chassis of the Pontiac Big Six mark Oakland's latest creation as the mechanical aristocrat in the field of low-priced sixes.

The most outstanding advantage presented by the new Pontiac is found in the larger engine which develops 57 brake horsepower at 3000 r. p. m. an increase of nine horsepower over the engine of the previous series. Piston displacement has been enlarged from 186 inches to 200 inches, the new bore and stroke being 3 5-16 by 3 7-8 inches against 3 1-4 by 3 3-4 inches in the 1928 Pontiac.

But besides this new reserve of engine power, the Pontiac Big Six offers many other important features. Included among them are a new counter-balanced 53-pound crankshaft; harmonic balancer, new self-energizing four-wheel brakes; heavier rear axle; new transmission, and new Hotchkiss drive, according to J. P. Strom, local Oakland and Pontiac dealer.

The engine while retaining the principle of oversize vital parts as a means of assuring stamina and long life, presents many new advancements in design. In the larger vertical type 1 1-4 inch carburetor are incorporated both an "economizer" which mixes a lean gasoline charge for normal driving speeds and an accelerator

BUICK USED BY LINDY ON VISIT

When Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was visiting his fiancée, Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, at the estate of her father, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow in Cuernavaca, Mexico, they rode in a 1929 Buick, according to photographs received by C. C. Kratzer, local Buick dealer. The pictures were taken shortly after the airplane accident in which Colonel Lindbergh and Miss Morrow figured and show the famous aviator's right arm carried in a sling.

"Readers will recall the dispatches from Mexico telling of Colonel Lindbergh and Miss Morrow taking automobile rides with Lindbergh driving the car with one hand because of an injury received in a crash," said Kratzer. "The car which the colonel was driving was one of the latest model Buicks." He continued.

While Buicks outnumber any other pump which functions only when quick pickup is desired. A new and larger three-port manifold distributes the mixture evenly to the engine, while larger intake valves of 1 1-4 inch diameter with lift increased to 5-16 of an inch permit rapid and complete charging of the cylinders. Dampers prevent surging or chattering of valve springs at high speed and assure uniformly efficient valve action at all speeds. A new quieting camshaft curve also assists in achieving silent valve action.

other six cylinder car in California, Buick is in reality world-wide in its use, the Buick organization penetrating to the four corners of the globe. Its popularity was established years ago in parts of Asia, and the Orient.

so goes on through Oregon into Washington in addition to Nevada. This, we believe, is a very valuable asset to the Buick owner who contemplates tours along the entire coast as is the increasing fashion these days.

3 'DEVIL DOGS' THRILL IN FILM

There are no more fascinating figures in American history than the "Devil Dogs," or "Leathernecks," of the United States Marine Corps, therefore it is safe to predict that entertainment of unusual interest will be found in "The Leatherneck," William Boyd's Pathe star picture, which comes to the Fox-California theater today for two days.

"The Leatherneck" tells a human intensely dramatic tale of three Marine buddies and of their adventures in parts of Russia and Manchuria. Against this varying and colorful background the story carries this loyal trio through romance, comedy and drama that at times, reaches spectacular heights.

A key to the novel situations with which "The Leatherneck" abounds is found in the manner in which the story is told. The exact form of telling is withheld in advance, but it is said that the interest is caught with the opening scene and firmly held until the unexpected climax.

One of the finest casts that has been seen on local screens in some time is to be found in this adventure romance. Robert Armstrong and Alan Hale are Boyd's two buddies, comprising the "Three Musketeers" with Fred Kohler featured in the heavy role. Diane Ellis, a charming blonde screen "discovery" supplies the feminine side of the romance while even the minor roles are played by such screen favorites as Mitchell Lewis, Wade Boteler, Paul Weigel, Jimmy Aldine, Philo McCullough, Richard Neil, Jules Cowles, Lee Shanway and Jack Richardson.

Howard Hegin, who directed Boyd and Hale in "Skycraper" and "Power" is responsible for the magnificent work on "The Leatherneck." The story was written especially for the screen by Elliott Clawson and Ralph Block was the producer.

Reports from motion picture theater managers who have shown the picture indicate that "The Leatherneck" is one of the greatest drawing cards thus far produced this season.

Mary Carr Stars In Mother Role At Macdonald

One of the main reasons for Mary Carr's outstanding success as a screen mother is the fact that she is not interpreting a role so much as just being herself for in real life she is the proud possessor of a happy family of children—although we hope they never cause her the trouble and heart aches her screen children do. But because she is a real mother she brings to her picture interpretations a warmth and sincerity which make her roles live in the hearts of her fans, who are legion.

If you want a perfect example of her talent see "Some Mother's Boy" at the Macdonald theater today and tomorrow.

Johnny Ralston, Jason Robards, M. A. Dickinson and Henry Barrows are also featured. It is a Rayart picture produced by T. Carr, and directed by Duke Worne.

FUNERAL HELD FOR SLAIN GANGSTER

CHICAGO, May 11.—(U.P.)—With out benefit of clergy for the presence of "Scarface" Al Capone, who usually attends the funerals of his own gunmen, the body of Joseph Quintana dressed in tuxedo and dancing pumps, was buried in unconsecrated ground today in Mount Carmel cemetery.

The dancing gangster's friends and relatives tried to make up in material display for what the funeral lacked in spiritual qualities, but the effort failed. Chicago doesn't turn out for gang funerals like it did when the O'Gonnas and Lombards were laid to rest with splendors worthy of monarchs.

Gangland itself seems to have lost interest, too, for there were no celebrities at Quintana's funeral today, no bustling hip pockets or automobiles which might contain machine guns.

Not more than 200 people passed through the parlor of the Quintana cottage to view the slender body of the late Capone gunman. No priest could be found to officiate at the funeral of one who died so ignominiously. An undertaker said a brief prayer under the red electric bulb which illuminated the casket.

CHRONIC CASE OF SORE LEG;

LIMB TURNED BLACK; AM- PUTATION FORESTALL- ED BY HERBS

July 10, 1928.
To Whom It May Concern:
Oakland, Cal.
About 15 years ago I underwent an operation that left my leg in an ulcerated condition from which I suffered a great deal. I treated with many healers, but got no relief. One wanted to operate on the leg; another wanted to amputate it.

About two and one-half years ago my leg turned black and I was not able to wear a shoe. A friend told me about Fong Wan, so I consulted him. After following his instructions as to diet and taking the herbs that he compounded now after eleven months my leg is in normal condition, and I am in perfect health.

PLATFORM OF W. J. JOHNSON ASKS TAX CUT

The candidacy of Walter J. Johnson for a place as a member of the city council for a six year term has attracted a great deal of attention during the present campaign. Coming into the fight as a stranger in politics, he stood third at the close of the primary.

The platform that Johnson stands on is a definite one which has attracted a great deal of support to him. He is for a more efficient government, a reduction in taxes, the employment of local labor on municipal work, the encouragement of industries, and the handling of the public business just as carefully as a private business man conducts his own.

After closing his campaign last evening Johnson issued a statement in which he said that he was perfectly satisfied with the outlook as far as his candidacy was concerned. He urged his friends and workers to see that the vote of the people was polled Monday.

"My fight," said Johnson, "has been an independent one, because I have felt that by making no alignments, and making no promises, I would be in a position to consider with an open mind matters that would come before the council."

Dr. A. B. Hinkley, candidate for the council to succeed himself is well satisfied with the way the situation looks, and thanks his friends for the work they have done for him. The candidate was high man at the primary and his friends predict he will still hold the same place when the votes are counted.

"I wish to add a word of caution," Hinkley said last night. "So many of my friends are over-confident of my success that they may think that the battle is over. It is not over until the votes are in the box and counted and unless they vote, the hard work will have been in vain."

POLICE BAFFLED IN DEATH OF STUDENT

WINDSOR, Conn., May 11.—UP With authorities divided in opinion and the Huntington family dissatisfied with a suicide theory new developments were awaited tonight in the investigation into the death of Walter Treadway Huntington, Harvard student.

Huntington's body was found Wednesday and since then authorities have been admittedly perplexed.

"It is the greatest puzzle I have ever been faced with," declared Coroner Calhoun.

County Detective Edward J. Hickey said he believes Huntington went to his room on Tuesday evening, took an automatic revolver from a box that was found there later, told his mother he was going to the drug store, and left the house to go to his death.

Hickey persistently clings to the theory of suicide.

Another angle considered tonight was a report that a mysterious woman had come here to meet Huntington on Tuesday. A woman's handkerchief was found in the student's pockets.

Private detectives have been employed by the youth's family because of their dissatisfaction with the suicide decision.

ELMER A. MARTIN TELLS HIS POSITION ON PUBLIC AFFAIRS

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF RICHMOND:

In the short time between the primary and the final elections, it has been impossible for me to personally see every voter. I am taking this method of placing myself in touch with the people of Richmond, so that I may tell them where I stand on matters of vital importance, affecting the government of the city, and the welfare of its people.

It has always been my policy to meet fairly and squarely every issue that comes up. At no time has an attempt been made on my part to dodge a matter or to refuse to take the consequences of any vote that I have cast as a member of the council.

I believe the people of this city want action, and not promises, and in the two years I have served on the council I have always cast my vote with the best interests of the City of Richmond in mind.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE

I am making this campaign to succeed myself, as an independent candidate. I have no enemies to punish, nor friends to reward. I have made no promises to anyone, so that in returning to my present position I will be open minded to do what I consider best for the growth of Richmond.

As a property owner, I am naturally interested in as low a tax rate as is consistent with good government, and the advancement of a growing city.

NEW CHARTER NEEDED

Low taxes are desirable, but before you can secure them you must have a NEW CHARTER. Our present charter is antiquated. It was framed for a small town and served its purpose. Richmond has outgrown it and we should have a charter that is modern and will fit the needs of a growing city. When you adopt a new charter, you will secure more efficient government.

I wish to state at this time that I stand unequivocally for a new charter.

ABOLISH "STAR CHAMBER"

When I moved at the meeting of the council last Monday night that all "star chamber" meetings be abolished in the future, I was absolutely sincere. It was not "politics" as some of my enemies have attempted to lead the public to believe. It was simply a move toward good government and better government.
